

ABSTRACT

In an emission control system that includes a particle filter, an arrangement is provided upstream of the particle filter, the arrangement being configured to prevent the 5 development of ash-forming compounds of sulfur in the exhaust. The emission control system may be used with a diesel engine.

NY01 384980 v 1